

Methane Energy at the Waste Water Treatment Plant

Treating 7.5 Million Gallons a Day

1950s: City staff connected a methane gas power generator to the bio-solids collected at the Waste Water Treatment Plant. The excess heat generated is used to heat the facility and the waste lagoons. The electricity produced is sold to Idaho Power.

Generating electricity and heat

➔ $100,000/year
in net metering

Con$erve Pocatello energy $mart water $mart dollar $mart